Located one mile south of Hannibal

Mark Twain wrote, "By and by somebody shouted, ‘Who’s ready for the cave? Everybody was. Bundles of candles were procured and straight away there was a general scamper up the hill.’"

“No man knew the cave; that was an impossible thing. Most of the young men knew a portion of it and it was not customary to venture beyond the known portion. Tom Sawyer knew as much of the cave as anyone” (From The Adventures of Tom Sawyer.)

You will have the same exciting experience exploring this remarkable cave as Tom Sawyer and Becky Thatcher did many years ago.

An experienced guide will escort you on a one-hour tour featuring points of interest mentioned in Mark Twain’s writings, and made more enjoyable by the latest techniques in cave lighting. Walkways are level and smooth and there are no steps. Persons of any age can easily make the tour. Bring a light wrap as the cave is 52 degrees year around. Wear sensible walking shoes and be sure to bring your camera.

One of America's unique and best-loved personalities, Samuel Clemens - later known as Mark Twain - was born in a rented cabin in the small town of Florida. The cabin is now preserved inside the museum, along with a handwritten manuscript of “The Adventures of Tom Sawyer” and furnishings from his Hartford, Conn. home, at Mark Twain Birthplace State Historic Site. The historic site and surroundings Mark Twain State Park stand as a tribute to the author-humanist.
